With this policy (hereinafter referred to as the “Cookie Policy”), Pauwels wishes to inform you of the type(s) of cookies we use and the way in which we do so.

We reserve the right to change, improve or make additions to this Cookie Policy with respect to future use of the Website, regardless of the reason why, by uploading a revised version of this Cookie Policy on our Website. The Website will show a notification that a revised version of the Cookie Policy has been uploaded.

I. What are cookies?

A cookie is a small data-file which is installed on the browser of your computer or mobile device by the server of a website or platform, when u visit that website and/or platform. The cookie contains a unique code which allows your browser to be recognized when visiting the website (a so called “session” cookie), or in case of more repeated visits (a so called “permanent cookie”). Cookies can be installed both by the website you visit, as well as by partners with which the website and/or the platform cooperates. The server of the website is only able to read the cookies which it has installed itself and has in no way whatsoever access to the other information stored on your computer or mobile device. Cookies are stored in the folder of your browser, on either your computer or your mobile device. The content of a cookie usually consists out of the name of the server which has placed the cookie, an expiration-date as well as a unique numerical code.

Cookies generally make the interaction between the website/platform and her visitor/user easier, and help the user/visitor to navigate between the different parts of the website/platform.

II. Which cookies do we use?

The Website uses different kinds of cookies:

- (i) Necessary cookies: these cookies are essential to visit our Website and to use the different parts thereof. These cookies allow you, for example, to navigate between the different parts of the Website.
- (ii) Tracking cookies: Tracking cookies are cookies, which survive the user-session. They can gather information for a period lasting up to a year. During this term, the cookie will be reset to its original value every time you visit the Website. This cookie registers vital information, such as how a visitor first visits the Website. This is the reason why these cookies are called “tracking” cookies. When you have selected a language preference for example, the Website will register this choice as a permanent cookie in your browser. When revisiting the Website, the cookie will ensure that the content on the website is displayed in the language of your choice.

- (iii) Performance cookies: We use performance cookies to gather information concerning the use you make of the Website, intending to improve the content on our Website, to further adapt the Website to the wishes of the visitors/users and generally speaking to enhance the usability of the Website. We for example have a cookie which helps us count the number of unique visitors and a cookie which monitors what pages of the Website are most popular.

III. Management of cookies

You can set up your browser to receive a notification when a cookie is placed or you can disable the placement of cookies. If you disable the installment of cookies, there is a chance you will not be able to enjoy certain of the services offered by Pauwels through the Website.

IV. Applicable law – Jurisdiction

This Cookie Policy is governed by, and needs to be interpreted in accordance with Belgian Law. Any and every possible or actual dispute which concerns this Cookie Policy, or results from this Cookie Policy, shall be adjudicated by the competent courts of the registered office of Pauwels.

V. Cookie Pop-up

This website uses cookies to (e.g.) remember your settings and preferences, as well as to keep statistics. By clicking “Accept Cookies”, you consent to the installment of such cookies.
